- ii. Three Team Tie - Best win-loss record in games involving the tied teams.
 1. If this separates one team- the tie between the other two would be broken by the two team tie criteria.
 2. If not, the next option would be points for/against between the tied teams with the maximum point spread for any one game being capped at 25 points.
 3. If the above separated one team and the other two were tied, their head to head record would decide.
 4. If points for/against resulted in a three-way tie remaining, the next option would be points for/against versus the entire league.
- iii. Four Way Tie - Would follow the same protocol- with criteria in order of preference being:
 1. Win/loss record among tied teams
 2. Points for/against among tied teams (25-point cap)
 3. Points for/against versus entire league (25-point cap)
 4. Please note - whenever the criteria would separate a team or teams, the remaining ties would be broken using the appropriate formula listed above.

b. Unbalanced Schedule

i. Two Team Tie

1. Result of the game between the two tied teams, with the winner receiving the higher placing. If teams have split a season series, points for/against between the tied teams will be used with the maximum point spread for any one game being capped at 25 points.
2. If this procedure fails to break the tie, then each tied team record shall be compared to the team occupying the highest position in the final regular season standings, continuing down through the standings until one team gains an advantage by a higher winning percentage.

ii. Three Team Tie - Best win-loss record / win – loss % in games involving the tied teams.

1. The combined record of conference games between the tied teams involved will be compiled. Ties will be broken and seedings assigned based on the winning percentage of the combined conference records. The higher winning percentage shall prevail, even if the number of games played against the team or group is unequal. (ie 2-0 is better than 3-1; 1-0 is the same as 2-0 2-0 is the same as 4-0; 2-1 is the same as 4-2; 1-0 is better than 1-1; 0-1 is the same as 0-2; 0-2 is the same as 0-4)
2. If this procedure fails to break the tie, then each tied teams record shall be compared to the team occupying the highest position in the final regular season standings, continuing down through the standings until one team gains an advantage by a higher winning percentage.
3. If the tie broken by (1) or (2) regarding one or more teams, but three or more teams remain tied, then procedures (1) and (2) will be reapplied among those tied teams only.
4. If this separates one team, the tie between the other two would be broken by the two team tie breaking criteria and their head to head record would decide. If not, the next option would be points for/against between the tied teams with the maximum point spread for any one game being capped at 25 points.

Note: If there is more than one tie in the standings, and when utilizing the tie breaking procedures there are a pair of teams tied, a team's record against the combined tied teams will be used to break the tie.
